MISS MARTHA DORSETT

TO

MISS MARTHA DORSETT

Whose loyal friendship, sincere interest and ever ready help has constituted a bright spot in the life of the Seniors, we,
the class of '28 dedicate this volume of the "Spider Web."

YE FOREWORD

Harken! my friend, we trust that vivid memories of ye olde tymes will come to you when you turn the pages of this "Spider Web" which we have endeavored to fill with the joys of our eventful days in the Macomb High School. May it take its place among your most cherished treasures is the wish of

HALLOWEEN

SUPERINTENDENT
GEORGE A. SELTERS

This is Mr. Selters' first year as Superintendent of the Macomb Public Schools but due to his keen interest in the welfare of the students and his splendid cooperation with the faculty he has endeared himself to all and we hope that he may remain here many years.

PRINCIPAL WILLIAM E. QUICK

Mr. Quick is spending his first year as Principal of Macomb High School. With his new ideas he has given us a new atmosphere in which to live and because of his sincere regard for the well-being of all he has made himself a favorite with the entire student body.

Many, many classes have departed
From the doors of Macomb High,
And every heart that passes through,
Feels an aching, gives a sigh.

Now the class of '28 is passing
Through that often traveled door,
Yet you need not think we have forgotten
If we return no more.

We bid you adieu, Alma Mater:
Good-bye, dear M. H. S!
All through life we will remember
And of you sweet memories possess.

FRANCIS WELLS.

'Twas not so very long ago
That our halls were brightened by a happy glow,
We Juniors now were Freshmen then,
Beautiful girls and stalwart men,
We came, we saw, we conquered.

We gave our best to the Orange and Black
On the football field and the cinder track.
In later years may our banner bright
Shine as a beacon that glows by night,
Proving we came and conquered.

In class room too, with book and rule
We learned the things that are taught in school.
We bid good-bye to our Junior year
With a sigh perhaps, but not a tear,
For we came, and we saw, we conquered.

JAMES CHAPMAN.

ROSCOE ALLEN

"I'm in training for the world's featherweight championship during my periods in assembly."

BIRYL ALLISON

"Without love life is dead."

DORIS BARTLETT

"If silence were golden she would belong to the iron age."

VELDA BARTLETT

"Her greatest virtue is speaking before she thinks."

EMMA BASTABLE

"Oh for a visit to England!"

LEWIS BLEVINS

"There's no such word as fail."

CHARLES BOYLE

"I love to wind me up;
I love to hear me go."

ADRIAN BUTTERFIELD

"One hour a day to study,
One hour in which to eat,
Two hours to think how tired I am
And twenty hours to sleep."

DONALD CARRISON

"No man is free who is not master of himself."

JAMES CHAPMAN

"Poetry is the hunger for Elsewhere."

HELEN CHRISTENSON

"Who wears the name of Helen must be fair,
Fairer than lilies, dearer than the sound
Of air blown melody on autumn days. . . ."

GENEVIEVE CORB

"Being good is a lonesome job."

MARY CONNETT

"Silence is a virtue well worth attaining"

DOROTHY CRAIN

"A blush is beautiful but often inconvenient."

JOHN EWING

"Paw, gimme a nickel, I wanta be tough."

JOHN FUHR

"Some men were born for great things,
Some men were born for small,
Some, it is not recorded,
Why they were born at all."

HELEN GLOYD

"Each day we're happy, each day
we're kind
Leaves much of it sunshine behind in the mind."

ETHEL GREELEY

"Never trouble trouble till trouble troubles you."

JEANETTE GRIFFIN

"Never let your studies interfere with your education."

Last year we were Freshmen but those days are gone forever,
Though some have stayed behind, the majority go on together,
This year we have "A" students and athletes by the peck
Who can say the Sophomores will make this school a wreck?
In all the subjects taught here we are going to excel,
To prove it, try to give us a word which we can't spell.
Next year we will be Juniors, just you wait and see
Then we'll make our report cards shine with many an "A" and "B"
But why worry of the future, or think much of the past
When the present bright is glowing for this 1930 class.

On September sixth, nineteen twenty-seven,
Pupils numbering one hundred eleven,
(Omitting the writer who doesn't count)
The steps of Macomb High School did mount.
Some were fat and some were lean,
The Sophs said, "The greenest we've ever seen."
Education was what we sought.
Said the Sophs, "The miracle can't be wrought
For a crowd that dumb can't be taught."
A teacher said, "Be seated, please."
Which put us Freshmen more at ease.
And we soon learned when to sit and stand
And were ever ready with willing hand
To help our classmates and teachers too,
Just as good Freshies ought to do.
And we think it a wonderful class, don't you?

Well, the months have passed and we're Freshies still
Who are climbing and climbing up the hill
Toward the education we hope to have won
When we graduate from Macomb High in nineteen-thirty-one.

Athletics

Boys' Athletics

COACH JACKSON

Coach Jackson has attended some of the best colleges in the country, and starred as an athlete at Lombard, where he was selected as All-State quarterback. He had had experience as a coach when he came to Macomb High and has since that time given us a fine athletic record in every sport.

More words cannot express our regard for "Jack," but the following statement made by one of Macomb's leading citizens helps to tell what we think of our Coach. "Coach Jackson is one of the squarest, gamest, and finest men that ever lived!"

Let us hope that "Jack" will stay at M. H. S. and continue to put out winning teams for many years to come.

Foot Ball

VERNON BROADHEAD

"Rube," our diminutive captain, was our best ground-gainer and lead the team from the quarterback stall in almost perfect fashion. His speed and fight made him much respected by all opponents. This was his last year.

CARL DUNBAR

"Dutch" played in the backfield, end and tackle, this year. He was a valuable man in all positions. He was a deadly tackler and a hard-hitting full-back. He has one more year.

ROBERT LINDSTEDT

"Bob," although inexperienced and inclined to be nervous, made up for these defects by his fight. He showed his worth in the Peckin game. "Bob" has two more years.

LESLIE KILLINGSWORTH

"Tiny" was seen at center this year and played that position very well. He was a stone wall on defense and his passing was excellent. He leaves a big hole to fill next year.

CONRAD SENN

"Con," only a freshman, has, evidently, some of his cousin Bill's ability. He filled the half-back position nicely in several games. With more experience, he should be one of the best half-backs M. H. S. has ever had.

LELAND JACKSON

"Skeeter" was at his old place at end this fall and showed the speed and fight of former years. Few runs were made around his wing. This was his last year.

GEORGE REED

"Jim" although handicapped by weak eyes, played end and half back in great style. His vicious tackling was a feature of every game. He will be back next year.

PAUL VAH

Speed whose speed and elusiveness in an open field gained many yards for us this year, is a Senior. His will be a hard place to fill next year.

JAMES JACKSON

"Jim," a sub last year, was promoted to the first squad this year. He was in the thick of the fighting at all times. This was his last year.

CLOYD MUSTAIN

Cloyd was a sub who broke into games this fall and performed in creditable fashion. He has one more year.

LEWIS PENNINGTON

"Lew," a sub last year, broke into games this fall and performed well. He will graduate.

COLLINS CREASY

"Bud" was small for a line-man but his experience at Pinhook helped him win a berth on the team. He has one more year in which to fight for Macomb High.

RALPH KIRKPATRICK

"Zeke" was rewarded for his two years of toil on the "Yanngans" and this year got into several games. He is a Senior.

ERRETT LINKS

Errett was a new man this year and showed plenty of speed and fight. He played a fine game against Canthage. He will be back next year.

NEVIN BARCLAY

"Nuccio" came through in great fashion this year and performed at guard in several games. His willingness offset his lack of beef. This was his last year.

Foot Ball Season

In the first game of the season, Rushville beat us in the last few minutes of play, 6-2. Bradley, their plunging fullback, won the game in the last minute when he ploughed through for the only touchdown of the day.

The highly touted Carthage team was beaten the next Saturday, 33-6. Much improvement was shown over the game the week before.

Before several thousand rooters, Quincy High trimmed us, 21-6. Quincy ran wild in the last half.

The game with Monmouth turned into a track meet and the score finally read, 44-0.

In a hard fought, cleanly-played battle Galesburg defeated the Orange, 19-0.

On Armistice day the team went to Pekin and played in a veritable torrent. The Pekinates proved more able mudders and we were beaten 15-0.

The annual battle with Keokuk was indeed a battle and the score ended 2-0 with the Orange and Black on top.

The Illinois Military Academy, Abingdon, credits itself with a victory over Macomb High on Thanksgiving Day.

Basket Ball

CARL DUNBAR

"Dutch" was the high scorer on the Orange team this year. He was a marked man in most of the games but always succeeded in getting eight or ten points every game. He was honored by being selected as All-Star center at the District Tourney at Quincy. He has one more year.

LEWIS PENNINGTON

"Claude," unfortunately for the team, graduated at the end of the first semester and his place was hard to fill. His accurate shooting and excellent floor-work kept the team in the running in several games.

LESLIE KILLINGSWORTH

"Tiny" was the largest man who ever donned a suit for Macomb High and also one of the best. He had a good eye on long shots and guarded effectively. This was his last year.

VERNON BROADHEAD

"Rub," is contrast to "Tiny" was the smallest man on the team and also the fastest. He was placed on the second All Star team at Quincy. This was his last year.

GEORGE REED

"Jim" had a dead eye for the basket and always fought his best. He proved his worth in the first Academy game by holding down their tall boy, Lindsey. "Jim" has one more year.

LELAND JACKSON

"Skeeter" broke into most of the games at guard and always steadied the team when they seemed to be up in the air. He was a capable understudy for "Tiny." This was his last year.

ROBERT CROWE

"Bob" broke into many games and filled the forward position very well. He had a nice eye and guarded well. This was his last year.

PAUL GALLOWAY

"Peanuts," although only a Freshman, played a nice game at forward and should develop into one of the best men M. H. S. ever turned out. He was placed on the All-Star team at Quincy.

ROBERT LINDSTEDT

"Bob," although inclined to become rattled occasionally, has lots of ability, and will be a valuable man next year. He has two more years.

Basket Ball Season

The hoop season, with 11 wins out of 17 starts, was considered very successful by the coach and the rooters. Many men who are destined to be stars in the future were uncovered and this also made the season worth while. The best games were played against the Academy in the first game of the city series, Keokuk and Quincy.

In the Western Invitational Tournament, we were defeated the second game by Elmwood, 17-14. Several long baskets in the last quarter were responsible for the defeat.

In the District Tournament at Quincy, we won two hard fought games from Augusta and Camp Point and earned the right to meet Quincy in the finals. It proved to be a hectic, heart-breaking game for us, for when the gun went off the score read Quincy, 21; Macomb, 20.

Track 1927

M. H. S. enjoyed a most successful track season in 1927. Fifty-two points were scored by the Orange in the County Meet, the largest total ever amassed by a team in this meet. The team also finished high in the Military Tract Meet at Galesburg and the District at Quincy. McKee, Dunbar, Sutherland and Jackson qualified for the State Meet at Urbana.

JUNIOR

Junior has been the M. H. S. mascot for several years and has accompanied the team on all trips. Judging by the Junior High class tournament, Junior will be some basketball player himself when he gets in High School.

EXCHANGE CLUB BANQUET

On Monday, March 26, the basketball letter-men were entertained by the Macomb Exchange Club at the Universalist Church. During the fine lunch, talks by Reverend Cann, Coach Jackson, and Capt. Dunbar were very much enjoyed by the men. Mr. Chas. Fox and Nevin Barclay gave an impersonation of the "Two Black Crows" and were heartily applauded.

This banquet will be an annual affair, according to Mr. Dicker, the President of the Exchange Club.

Girls Athletics

Miss Lorenz, the girls' physical education director, has very successfully carried on her work in Macomb High School for two years. She is a graduate of Iowa State University. Besides gymnasium classes in the Junior and Senior High School, she conducts classes at the ward schools. A very active organization of Girl Scouts was formed with Miss Lorenz as Captain. She has made it possible for the girls interested in basketball to have class teams with practices as often as the gymnasium is available. The Athletic Association too has grown under her careful guidance and the campaign for a bigger and more active association. The girls have appreciated the interest taken in them and hope to have Miss Lorenz with them again next year.

They aren't a secret society, it's the Girls Athletic Association established away back in 1906. A benefit especially for the benefit of all those who are naturally athletically inclined.

We don't pretend to be football players or Daughters of the Graces. Our real aim is better sportsmanship and an interest in the so-called Daily Dozen.

Several years ago a numeral for achieving 150 points was awarded to Martha Anderson. Since that time there has been no one else who has won it. They were given to Irene Shupe, Mildred Anderson and Jennie Riffle. The numeral, to my knowledge, has never had a proud owner.

The organization won first prize in the Hallowell Pageant in 1927. The League of Nations did it.

This year a decided interest in basketball was shown by the large number of girls that came out for practices. Freshmen, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior teams were chosen and a class tournament played. Against odds the Senior team took the honors as the champions. Later this season a team of the best players among the students and the faculty team played a game which the faculty won. The season was brought to a successful close with a banquet for Association members and girls out for basketball. The All-Star and Mythical teams were announced and several new members taken into the Association.

The class team captains are:

Gertrude Couch	Sophomore
Velia Bartlett	Junior

Le Cercle Francais was organized in the Macomb High School five years ago by Mlle. Walk. It is now under the capable leadership of Mlle. Schertz. Anyone studying French is eligible to membership.

The meetings are held the second Tuesday of each month. A small part of each meeting is devoted to business. The remaining part of the meeting is divided into a formal and informal program. In the formal program we learn of cities, customs, authors, and literature of France. In the informal program we play games and sing. All except the business part of the meeting is carried on in French.

Glee Club

The Glee Club is one of the oldest and best known organizations in High School. The two divisions of 1926-1927, have merged into one large group this year, with a membership of thirty-one.

The Club gave three selections at the Teacher's Institute and also for Junior High School Assembly. Several members entered the annual Military Tract and State Musical contest in voice and instrumental music.

Under the efficient direction of Mrs. Marth, much has been accomplished in the past year, and we hope to be as successful in the years to come.

The Home Economics Club, which was organized at the beginning of the year has proved very successful. Meetings are held twice a month. At these meetings, members of the club give special reports on topics concerning home economics that are of interest to both the foods and clothing classes. Short plays, readings, and musical numbers are also given.

The purpose of the club is to increase the interest in home making and to add to the social life of the members. "I want to be a Home Ec Girl" has been adopted as the club song.

The Vagabond Club is a dramatic association whose purpose is to learn more about acting, costumes and acting the stage.

At the meetings, which are held once a month, business is first transacted then followed by a short program. These programs consist of reports on plays, costumes and stage settings. During the year a number of short plays have been put on before the entire student body in the general assembly period. One of these, "Hoopenbaum" was written by members of the club.

Tryouts for membership in the club are held at the beginning of the year. Students who take part in the class plays automatically become eligible for membership.

SAUCE FOR THE GOSLINGS

On January 27, 1928, the play "Sauce for the Goslings" was given by the Vagabond Club. A much esteemed friend is visiting the Taylors. The parents and the grandmother in order to show the children the evil of using slang, adopt the modern slangy phrases. Needless to say the children are shocked but after an explanation from the parents they decide never to use slang again.

HISTORY PROGRAM

On Monday, February 1, 1928, the combined American History Classes under the supervision of Mr. Fox gave a program in honor of Lincoln's birthday. Lincoln's Gettysburg Speech was recited, a dramatization of the battle was given and a Lincoln Drama which was presented, each Act taking the part of Douglas and James Jackson the part of Lincoln.

Parties

VAGABOND PARTY

On Saturday evening, October 22, 1927, the Vagabond Club held a masquerade party at the high school building. The evening was spent in playing games and impersonating movie stars. A large throng was present and the party adjourned at a late hour having had a very pleasant evening.

G. A. A. PARTY

On November 11, 1927, the members of the G. A. A. enjoyed a party which took place in the high school gym. The first part of the evening was spent in playing games in which the members of the club and faculty were kept busy. After refreshments consisting of sandwiches, salad, potato chips, pickles, cookies, and hot chocolate were served, the rest of the evening was spent in dancing.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL BANQUET

On February 26, 1928, the girls held their Annual Basketball Banquet in the Home Economics room. After the banquet talks were given by each of the class captains. Ten new members were initiated into the G. A. A. Miss Lorenz then presented numerals to Mildred Anderson and Irene Shupe and announced the all-star and mythical teams.

JUNIOR PARTY

On Friday evening, March 2, the Jolly Juniors held a party at the high school building under the direction of Boston T. Sullivan. A party before the concert had never been undertaken by the Junior class but money was raised by selling fans in the treasury street. The evening was spent in playing bridge and singing. Refreshments were served after which the party adjourned. Chaperones were Miss Dorsett, Mrs. Hungerford and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Quick.

Senior Class Will

We, the undersigned, do hereby certify that we, of the Macomb High School, City of Macomb, McDonough County, State of Illinois, in our present state of sanity, do hereby, revoking all previous wills and testaments, bequeath to our under classmen all that we have ever had in order that they may gain the celestial heights of Seniorhood which this brilliant class of ours has enjoyed.

Francis Tiernan bequeaths his tormenting ability to Donald Metzger.

Edna Anderson bequeaths her constant frowns to Margaret Stocker and Carl Dunbar.

Vernon Broadhead bequeaths his constant frowns to Mildred Moon.

Frank Anderson bequeaths his constant frowns to John Fuhr whom we feel sure it will benefit.

Leslie Killingsworth leaves his husky stature and athletic ability to Max Murphy.

Earl Hunderson leaves his beautiful permanently waved wealth of flaming hair to Collins Creasy.

John Keys bequeaths his unusual dramatic ability to Carl Dunbar.

Virginia Patton bequeaths her remarkable quietness to Garnet Spicer.

Mary Heckman bequeaths her superior mental ability to all the freshmen who are shuddering at the mystifying years before them.

Dean Bruner and Velma Strickland bequeath their extra moonlight nights to Jim Reed and Irene Shupe.

Simon Wells bequeaths his aristocratic air to Adrian Butterfield.

Rose Mesick leaves her typing ability to all the freshmen who intend to take that subject.

Margaret Elting bequeaths her dimples to Neva Guthrie.

Paul Vail leaves his announcing ability to Lawrence Stewart.

Nevin Barclay bequeaths his clever clownish personality to Brinton Sullivan.

Kathryn Knappenberger leaves her smiles to some of the broken hearted freshmen.

Dorothy Moon bequeaths her vocal ability to Clara Louise Yard.

Georgie Broadhead leaves her art of curling hair to Dorothy Standard.

Lewis Pennington leaves his gruff voice to some of the voiceless freshmen and sophomores.

William Couch leaves his slow ways to John Links who always seems to be in a hurry.

Marie Hall leaves her rare artistic ability to Earmadean Horton.

Marietta Williams leaves to John Fuhr instructions on caring for a Chemistry locker.

Signed, sealed, published and declared by the Senior class, the testator, as our last will and testament, in the presence of the notary public, on this day of _____, A.D. 1928, at _____, State of Illinois, of the County of _____, the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-eight.

The Future of the Seniors

I gazed at the little roll of white paper tied with a bit of ribbon, my reward for four years of study in high school. Could it be that I had received my diploma? I sat down, worn out by the strain of the last few days. I was so tired, and sleepy, too. My eyelids fluttered and slowly closed and I began to partake of a peaceful slumber.

I awoke with a start! Oh! the awful noise! What did it all mean? "Extra! Extra! Ex-tra!" cried the youthful voice of the paper boy. It was now daylight. Had I slept so long? I went to the door to get the paper.

Behold the bold headlines: "James Jackson Makes Non-Stop Flight Around the World." Why he only graduated last night, that was impossible. Then for the surprise as I looked at the date, "May 25, 1938." It was Greek to me, what was it all about? Something else caught my eye. "Jackson's Flight Financed by Leslie Killingsworth, the only son of Sir Leslie Killingsworth, 1st Baron Killingsworth, 1st Bt., 1st Gt. Royal Family Entertained by the Singing, Dancing, and Jokes of the World-Famous Comedian, Nevin Barclay." Was it really true?

I turned the page and these words stood staring at me. "History of the Class of '28." Maybe that would solve my problem.

"All members of the class of '28 of Macomb High School, with the exception of one, have made progress and have become men and women of importance .

Minnie Crow for the past three years has been a reporter for the 'New York Times.' She holds a very responsible position.

George Yetter, M.D., for the past five years has been a physician in the city of New York, by Raymond Yetter, world-famed physician.

Elvyn Rigg has improved and enlarged the Macomb Dairy of which he is general manager.

Pauline Rexroat is the proud owner of a poultry farm which is located near this city.

Alice Albee and Norma Thompson are beauty specialists located in Los Angeles, California.

Robert Crowe is captain of the "Grey Eagle," the largest ship of the United States fleet.

Louise and Wilburt are now plodding along life's pathway side by side.

Mary Kennedy is running a tea room located in the far South.

Mildred Nichols has been engaged as instructor of French, for the past year, in an Eastern College.

Rolland Wilcox is still living in days filled with love.

Pearl Guy and Marie Hall have become artists of fame, and are living in a studio in Paris, France.

Margaret Upp has just completed a hike from Chicago to Mexico City.

Charles Murphy is editor of the famous book of fun "Let's Laugh."

Maurine Cole and Bernice Kent have arrived at Chicago on their horseback ride from Maine to California.

Clarabell Frowein has just won the championship as a woman golf player.

Mary Lescher, well known elocutionist, has just returned from a trip through Europe.

Lewis Bowers has been appointed as our representative to China.

Frank Albee is serving his second term as mayor in Chicago.

Terie R. H. has broken a record by swimming the English Channel in twelve hours.

Mildred Anderson has won distinction on the girls' polo fields.

Dean Bauer has written a new play which does not run the usual road with ease. It is called "Society Street." Ralph Kirkpatrick is its general manager.

Leland Jackson is general manager of William Couch's ranch in Arizona.

Wayne Yeast is owner of a large farm in Washington.

Noma Pearce is the first woman to make a non-stop flight from Alaska to Chile.

John Mason and Inez Parks are private secretary of Robert Hatfield, famous criminal lawyer of New York.

Dorothy Moon is writing a book on astronomy.

Velma Strickland is now doing her portrait painting by Virginia Patton. The dress her new waing was designed by the first successful American designer, Paul Zissosky.

Margaret Elting is now singing in Grand Opera.

Mr. George B. O. is working in Spain after making the picture "The Ten Year Rush" the scenario of which was written by Ve Da Leighty.

Frank W. is well known man on Wall Street, has purchased a large silver fox farm in Canada.

John Key is the famous American diplomat in Europe who made Mussolini take a back seat.

Vernon Broadhead for two years has been coach at Harvard University.

Glenrose Van Meter is studying the violin in Rome.

Earl Henderson has recently married a titled English Lady.

Rose Mesick has just finished a dancing engagement of two years in Paris.

The other member of the class is Marietta Williams, who since the night of graduation has been trying to undo Rip Van Winkle by sleeping. At the time the paper goes to press she has been sleeping approximately ten years.

Yes, twenty years! I have been doing what my fellow students have been sleeping. Well it's nothing unusual, I always am doing something like that.

MARIETTA WILLIAMS.

CHIVALRY

A maiden riding alone through Olde Englande was beset by rogues. A lad in armor riding close behind came swiftly up. A few blows and the rogues fled. When the girl recognized her deliverer, she rode haughtily on with the comment, "Kitchen knave!" Yet when the lad, Gareth, vanquished the three knights holding her sister prisoner, he won the maiden herself.

Years later, in the heart of London, a group of courtiers were conversing in front of a palace. A shining carriage drew up. The door opened. A lady, bejewelled and resplendent in silks and laces, looked helplessly at her shining slippers and then at the puddle between the carriage and the curb. The courtiers racked their brains. A slender page stepped up removing his cloak. He spread it over the puddle and the Queen looked at him. Some years later the page was known as Sir Walter Raleigh, was high in command of the Queen's navy. He led several of her expeditions to the New World.

A country store keeper, on closing for the night, found six cents too much in the till. He recalled having neglected to give a lady her change. That night on his way home he met a tall, thin man in a top hat. In 1869, when he stood in a vast multitude in Washington listening to a tall, quaint, homely man give an inaugural address which marked the beginning of his duties as President of the United States, "Honest Abe!" she murmured as she remembered that night long ago.

Chivalry is the badge of greatness.

GERALD CURTIS.

A DREAM OF THE SENIOR CLASS

Do you believe in transmigration of the soul? Perhaps you will after I tell you of my vision the other night. I had been reading by the light from a fire in the grate when suddenly onto the hearth a knight, clad in glistening silver armor, rode swiftly. From his words as he galloped by, I learned that he was on the quest of rescuing the fair Lady Marguerite from the clutches of a villain and it dawned on me that this was a previous incarnation of Lewis Pennington of the famous class of '28. He was followed by a herald, dressed in much gold braid and velvet, blowing his horn and calling loudly:

"Make way! Make way ye people! Her majesty, the queen, approaches!" And this lad I perceived was John Keys. The queen rode in a magnificent chariot and imagine my surprise when I saw that the face beneath the crown was Bernice Kent's and that her lady-in-waiting was none other than Maurine Cole. Then followed the Jester in the person of Nevin Barclay. Walking behind the queen's carriage came a body of court ministers, among whom I recognized Robert Hatfield, Paul Vail, Wayne Yeast and James Jackson, heatedly arguing over some important question.

Then came several knights who looked as if they might be prepared to enter a tournament and I saw that they were Vernon Broadhead, Leslie Killingsworth and Leland Jackson. Behind them came many young girls all cheering and encouraging the brave knight about to enter the lists. Among them I recognized May Hancock, Ve Da Leighty, Geraldine Yeast, and Mildred Anderson. Last in the procession came those stately ladies, all dressed in satins and pearls, riding in beautiful carriages. Of these I recognized only a few, Mary Heckman, Virginia Patton, and Jenne Riddle.

So I am convinced that our most illustrious class has come down through the ages together and that it will continue to remain so.

KATHRYN KNAPPENBERGER.

Seven score and four weeks ago destiny brought forth in the halls of Macomb High School a new class, conceived in ignorance and dedicated to the proposition that all men must acquire learning.

We have now, for the course of four years been engaged in a great intellectual effort, testing whether this class, or any part of it so conceived and so dedicated can in time achieve what they have been sent here to accomplish.

We came to high school four years ago, eagerly wondering what this new school had in store for us. We had come to dedicate, as we soon discovered, a large portion of our time and energy to the task which we gave them, and we did it. It was a great task and we did it.

But we soon discovered that we must not cram too much to accomplish well our task. Nor must we play too long, nor dared we bluff at all. The ones among us, living and nearly dead who have won A's, have proven this method far below our desire to consider or adopt.

Perhaps we will little note or long remember what we learned here, but we can never forget some of the things we did.

It is for us, the class of '28 now to be dedicated to the unfinished task which we have thus far so nobly advanced. It is for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us, that from these four happy years we take increased devotion to life, the aim for which our teachers gave their fullest measure of devotion. That we hereby resolve that our splendid opportunities shall not have been in vain, and our records shall not perish from the school.

BERYL HUNT.

SENIOR DAYS

By the shores of Lamorne River
By the slow and murmuring waters,
In the Dear Old Macomb High School,
Were enrolled the dignified Seniors.
Were enrolled the hearty classmates.
Straight before them rose the future,
Rose their love pursuit of knowledge.
There the patient corps of teachers
Guided all the dignified Seniors
Aided them in Mathematics
With its factors and equations,
Led them through their Science courses,
Taught them all about their English
Which will aid and help them always.
Near the first part of the season
Ranked the "every-ready" Seniors
Standing matched with other classes.
Heard the calling of Athletics:
Penny, Leslie and Skeeter Jackson,
Barclay, Broadhead and Kirkpatrick,
Took their places in athletics.
Elsewhere you will find the Seniors
Speaking, singing and debating,
Turning thoughts at times to frolic,
But always keeping high above them
All the standards of their High School.

VERNON BROADHEAD

EXCHANGE CLUB SCHOLARSHIP CUP

Last year the Exchange Club of this city inaugurated the custom of giving a silver cup to the member of the graduating class who ranked first in scholarship during his four years of high school. Wilbur Boyle with an average of 97.03 won this cup in 1927.

THE STAFF of the 1928 Spider Web wishes to thank the business men of Macomb who have helped to make this book possible by their advertising. It urges the student body of the Macomb High School to show its appreciation by patronizing these merchants.

Mr. Fox: Just who do we mean when we say "silent partner?"

First student: Why it's just a man who is in partnership with some one.

Female voice: Oh, I don't know, it could be a woman.

Second student: Yeah, but he said silent partner, sister, silent.

It is a very sad thought, gentle reader, that your children, twenty years from now, will be reading these same jokes.

Somebody sent in a poem that ran something like this:

Ain't afraid of snarlin' dogs,
Ain't afraid of squirrels,
Ain't afraid of guina pigs,
But I'm scared to death of GURLS!
And the funny part of it was that it was dedicated to Bud Creasy!

He (in a fit of passion after being turned down): I'm not worrying;
there's a lot more fish in the sea.

She: Yes, and if nobody's got a better line than you have they'll all stay there.

Mr. Bishop: Some of you pedestrians walk along just as if you owned the streets.

Mr. Fox: Yes, and some of you motorists drive around just as if you owned the car!

J'a hear the new Ben Hur song?
No? Well it goes something like this,
If I'd Ben Hur I'd slapped his face.

Don Metzger: Don't worry, freshie

Miss Dorsett: "Ever read Carlyle's Essay on Burns?"

Jim Foster: "I'm not in the medical school."

"Prithee, hast the fire going?"

"Yeah."

"But, 'tis cold in here."

"In sooth, it's going out, fool."

Pesky: Gee your car sounds like an old wreck.

Senator: It isn't the car it's the rumble seat.

Mrs. Thompson (demonstrating figures of speech) This is my book

Now class what is "this?"

Skeeter: Your book.
